Greeting

Salutation to our distinguished members

Warm welcome to the International Public Design Forum(IPDF). Allow me to extend profound gratitude to each of you for gracing us with your presence.

The International Public Design Forum has been in operation for three years since inception in 2021. Over this time, we have forged connections and networks with members from various countries, including Korea, Japan, China, and France, united in our pursuit of realizing the public value of design.

In the face of the myriad changes in the global landscape, the implementation of Public Design assumes a pivotal role in striving to exert a positive influence on society through design.

Furthermore, the International Public Design Forum remains steadfast in its commitment to collaborate and endeavor with global communities for foster a sustainable worldwide environment.

We anticipate your continued presence and interest will join us in our steps in contributing to create of a better world through public design.

With sincere regards.

Intro

Public design stands as the embodiment of a design ethos devoted to the pursuit of public values, emphasizing public benefit and safety, thereby fostering an enhancement in the overall quality of human life. This Public design contributes to elevating the quality of life within urban environment and establishing sustainable cities. The International Public Design Forum serves as a strategic platform, adept at identifying and addressing diverse challenges and issues within the public environment through collaborative efforts between the public and private sectors. Our objective is to cultivate public design into a cultural public good, imbued with alternative values capable of resolving pertinent issues in our collective existence.

Aligned with this mission, IPDF commitment centers on developing and upholding public design values, namely safety, Inclusion, convenience, and grace within communities. Through international collaboration, we actively propagate and advance the cause of public design on a global scale. Launched in 2021 with the first congregation comprising South Korea, China, and Japan, the IPDF has since expanded to include France in 2022.

The forum not only sets the pivotal point for public design but also establishes a solid groundwork for fostering collaborative initiative that promote a culture of public design. Simultaneously, it acts as a nexus for a global understanding of public design culture, contributing significantly to the amplification of social value by disseminating knowledge and wisdom through diverse media channels and programs. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to each participant for contributing to this momentous assembly, dedicated to disseminating the international culture of public design and outlining the visionary future of public design.

Thank you for your valued participation.

IPDF Public Design Value Goals

Public Design for Society

Public Design Together

Aligned with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) collectively established by the international community, the International Public Design Forum aspires to address multifaceted challenges confronting humanity in realms encompassing society, community, environment, life, and culture. Through collaborative ideation and design-driven problem-solving, we endeavor to unearth alternative solutions and apply them effectively.

At the Core of our agenda, based by the theme 'Public Design for Society, Public Design Together', we have delineated 4 overarching goals accompanied by 12 key indicators. Our unwavering commitment is directed towards 'enhancing the quality of life' for the public.

The foundational tenets of the International Public Design Forum revolve around the main objectives of advancing public interest, fostering a collaborative societal ethos, championing sustainability in our environmental pursuits, and catalyzing cultural creation. Moreover, the forum actively champions non-profit initiatives in the realms of diplomacy, culture, education, and academia, all orchestrated with the overarching goal of realizing public value through the design method.
